

Sylvie Cheyenne Pate, age 18, of Carrington, ND, died Friday, November 1, 2019.

Sylvie was born March 19, 2001 in West Monroe, Louisiana, the daughter of Jeff Pate and Julie (LaRocque) Pate. She grew up and attended school in Carrington, graduating in 2019 as Salutatorian from Carrington High School. She began studying Biology and Forensic Sciences at the University of North Dakota with dreams of becoming a Medical Examiner.

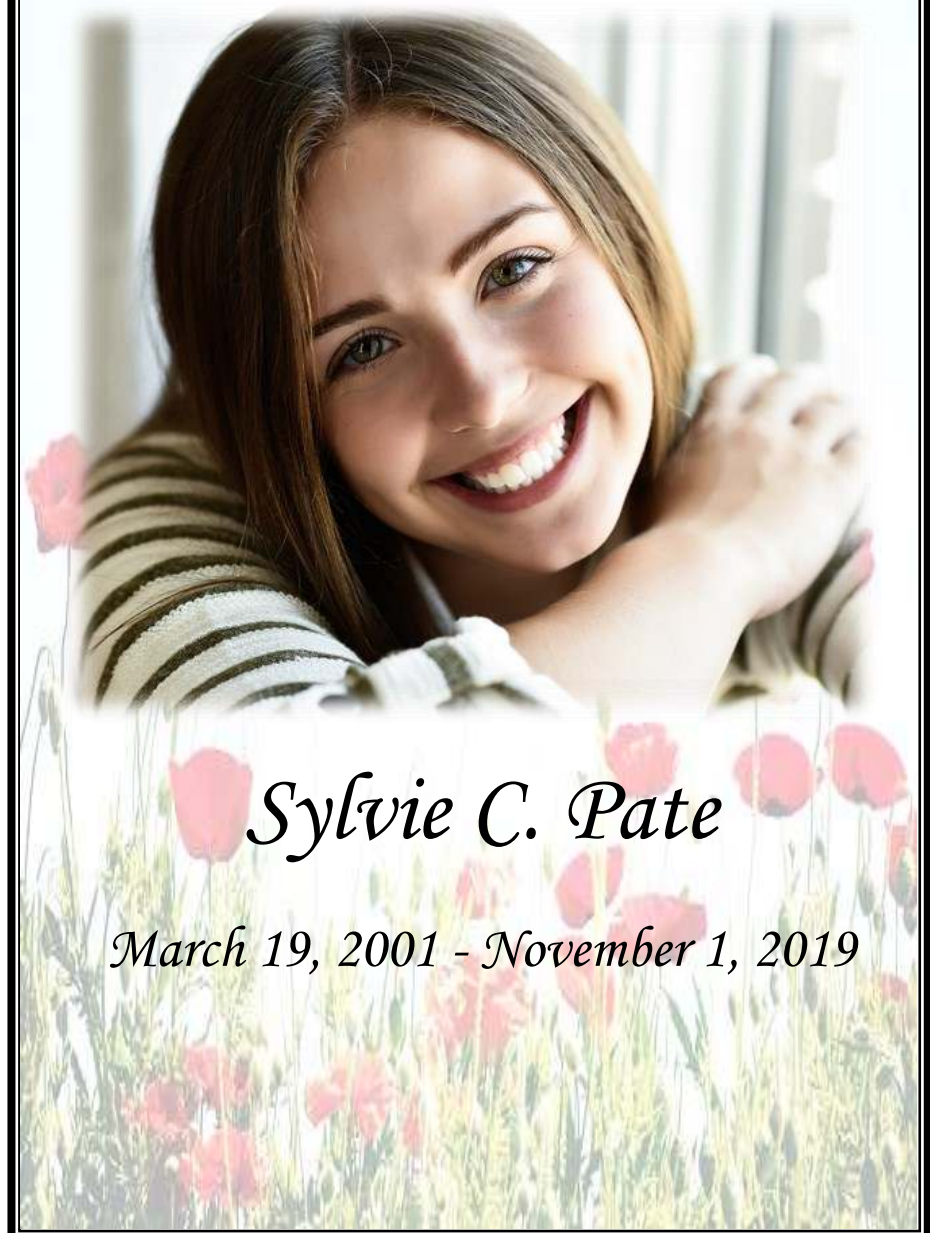

Sylvie enjoyed singing in choir, traveling the world, kayaking, fishing and hiking in the great outdoors. She was involved with mentoring and various extracurricular activities such as Future Business Leaders of America, Student Council, and Sources of Strength. Sylvie loved spending quality time with family and friends.

Sylvie is survived by her parents Jeff and Julie Pate, a sister, Kaylin Pate; grandparents, David and Deloris Pate, Athens, LA, Brigitte and Gerald LaRocque, from Grand Marais, MB; aunts and uncles Kelly Pate, Jamie (Dana) Pate, Kim Eikeseth, Dave (Jenna) LaRocque; cousins, Johnny White, Charli Pate, Nicholas Eikeseth, Emily Eikeseth, and Noah LaRocque.

At Sylvie's request, her tissue was donated through LifeSource to improve the quality of life of 40 beneficiaries.

Sylvie's beautiful smile, sense of curiosity, and zest for life will be missed. In lieu of flowers, the family requests for donations to be sent to the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline (<https://suicidepreventionlifeline.org/donate/>).

*“I devoted myself to others.
If someone needed something,
I was there without question.
I tried to give people what they needed;
that is what I always strived to do.
It was hard for me to admit that I was struggling,
that maybe I needed help.
I could give advice and
be there for others,
but I couldn't take my own advice
and be there for myself.”*
