

Ernest Virgil Redday (Chuckieman or Chuck), 69, of the Spirit Lake Nation, was born June 25, 1950 in Devils Lake, ND to Beverly Eagleman and Ernest O. Redday. Chuck was raised by his grandmother Christine Redday and attended school in Wahpeton Indian School, and Flandreau Indian School in South Dakota.

Chuckieman had a heart of gold. He was known for his humor, unconditional love and zest for life, his protective nature and singing. His extroverted personality enabled him to make friends in all his travels throughout his life. He enjoyed pow wows and speaking his language with relatives. Chuckieman was the jack of all trades, tinkering in the yard and improving vehicles.

Chuck began his journey into the Spirit World February 19, 2020, in Valley City, North Dakota. His family and friends will miss that contagious smile that seemed to light up a room.

Chuck is survived by his children; daughters: Ernileen, Shannon, Alicia, Winona and Shania; sons: Virgil Jr., Cameron, Pernell, Izlee, Edison, Isaac, Isaiah, Joshua and Shawn; 40 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren; numerous nieces and nephew; his brothers: Myron, Tom Lee and Roger Feather; sisters: Elgie Eagleman, Janice Feather and Renita (Dallas) Delorme.

He is preceded in death by his wife Carrie Ellen (Jetty) Redday, his parents, grandparents Joshua and Christine (Merrick) Redday, Baby Girl Redday, numerous relatives and friends.

He Is Gone

You can shed tears that he is gone,
Or you can smile because he lived,
You can close your eyes and pray that he will come back,
Or you can open your eyes and see all that he has left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see him
Or you can be full of the love that you shared,
You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday,
Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember him and only that he is gone
Or you can cherish his memory and let it live on,
You can cry and close your mind,
be empty and turn your back,
Or you can do what he would want:
smile, open your eyes,
love and go on.
