

Lisa Marie Schuster, 41, of New Rockford, ND, died June 16, 2020 at Sanford Medical Center, Fargo, ND surrounded by her family.

Lisa Schuster was born into this world by Paul and Sarah (Schafer) Schuster at Carrington, ND on March 8, 1979. During her childhood years, Lisa was mothered by her step mothers Lisa (Doll) Schuster and Leona (Sherland) Schuster. She was raised on a small farm just outside of New Rockford with her two brothers and dad, horses, pigs, dogs, snakes and multiple other little critters that surely instilled the love of all animals in Lisa.

Lisa attended New Rockford Public School until she graduated in 1997. While in school Lisa worked multiple jobs to help support her family. She enlisted in the National Guard in September, 1996 and served in the Guards until January, 2000 as a water purification specialist. Lisa transitioned to the Army, Active Duty, straight out of the National Guard and served 4 tours overseas, being stationed in Germany, Iraq, Kosovo and Afghanistan. Lisa was honorably discharged from the Army in March, 2005. She received numerous awards, medals and certificates while in her 8 years of service.

After the military, Lisa re-entered the medical field using her CNA skills she learned while in high school and worked at Meritcare Hospital and later at the Prac's Institute as a phlebotomist. After later working with the Canadian Pacific railroad, she moved back to New Rockford and worked at Barlow Grain Elevator with her oldest brother and also as a bartender at several establishments.

Known as "Little One" by her Uncle Fred, Lisa was truly loved by all of her family. She adored her nieces, nephews and sissy, and she always showed them how much she cared about them. Her nieces and nephews helped her get through many hard days. Lisa had the heart of gold and was willing to do anything for anyone who needed her help.

Lisa struggled the last 8 years of her life and fought a long hard battle with mental health issues, including PTSD, which led to the decline of her medical/physical health. She was a medical miracle and survived more than most doctors ever expected. She was a fighter. Lisa will forever be remembered, honored and greatly missed. Her infectious smile and contagious laugh was strong enough to end a war. Lisa lost this one, her last battle and passed away peacefully on June 16, 2020. May she now rest in peace.

Lisa is preceded in death by her grandparents, Milo and Ida Schuster, Aunt Jean and Uncle Simon Haman, Uncle Fred and Aunt JoAnn Schuster, Uncle Mike Miller and Aunt Diane Schafer. She is survived by her dad, Paul (Leona) Schuster, brothers John (Jean) Schuster, Jesse (Michelle) Schuster, grandparents, step-sisters, Erin Doll-Mayou, Patricia Schwab and Angela (Travis) Sainsbury, multiple aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins.

In Loving Memory

Always There

*When you remember me,
Please do not weep.
My body may not be there,
It has chosen to sleep.
I'm not that far away,
My soul lives on.
Looking down,
Watching over you and everyone.
And when you feel sad
And life seems so blue,
Just remember
That my spirit has
Its arms around you.
And on those special days,
Times that you wish I could see,
That cool breeze
Flowing past you...
Well, that will be me.
So don't be sad,
Have no fear.
God has taken me under his wing,
But I'll always be near.
I still watch you
Every minute, every day.
My love and soul are with you,
And that's where they will stay.
